The climate of all tropical countries is very hard on films, plates and all things pertaining to photography. Many experts come down here, obtain a large number of negatives, which they take home with them to develop,-only to find that they have LOST ALL THEY HAD, owing to climatic deterioration. Uncle Jack Gowdy Pestered by Spaniards. Letters received from "Uncle Jack" Goway of Rushville, consul at Paris, indicate that be is having some little unpleasantness on account of the war Most of the French people are Spanish sympathizers, and they lose no opportunity to show their preference. He has therefore found it well to take a vacation and is making a tour of other consulates in Europe, accompanied by his wife, daughter and Finley McGuire. They were at Vienna when heard from. Among other demonstrations on the part of Spanish sympathizers one was notable, inasmuch as his two Kentucky thoroughbred horses, which he had shipped to him, were maimed, and their long tails and manes, in which he took such great pride, were shaved. The work had been done one night when his Rushville hostler was seeing the sights. Gowdy and family are in the best of health. - Cincinnati Enquirer.

A THIEF'S WORK.

Mrs. Haskell Robbed of Money and

As stated in the BULLETIN yesterday there was trouble at the Hawaiian hotel. It turns out that on Wednesday night Mrs. Haskell had money and an opal FOR SALE-BOOKS ON MODERN LACE, at ring surrounded by diamonds stolen from her room on the top A TWO-MANUAL and Pedal Bass REED ORGAN floor. It was close upon 8 o'clock on the evening mentioned, that Mrs. Haskell sent her son Willie to their room on an errand.

As the boy approached the door he noticed a light inside and was startled as the room had been left in darkness. As he approached the door someone inside suddenly turned out the light and ran out upon the lanai. The boy was thoroughly frightened and ran downstairs, thus giving the per son in the room a chance to get away. It was found later that money and a ring bad been stolen.

Yesterday the police were sent for. Chester Doyle went up first, and was followed later by Detective Kaapa, who arrested John Massa, a bell boy, on suspicion.

It seems that, on the evening Mrs. Haskell's room was entered Massa remained about the hotel until 8 o'clock, whereas he was off duty at 6 o'clock. No confession has yet been obtained and the investigation still goes on.

That the thief was someone thoroughly acquainted with the room and Mrs. Haskell's move ments is beyond question, for, when the lady went downstairs, she backed the chatelaine in which she had her money and jewelry and put the key in the drawer. The thief found the key and unlocked the chatelaine.

STORY OF ROOSEVELT.

How He Looked After the Comfort of

The wounded rough riders at Fort Columbus all speak highly of Lieuten-ant Colonel Roosevelt. "One reason the boys are fond of Roosevelt," said one of them, "is that he is always looking out for the comfort of his men. One day the report reached him that some of our boys who were in one of the hospitals were not getting treated right. Roosevels went right over to that hospital to find out about it for himself. He looked pretty rough—not much as he did up here, I guess—and the young surgeon in the hospital did not know who he was. "How are the boys getting along?" asked the colonel.

" 'Who the h-l are you?' asked th

"'' 'I'm your superior officer, Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt. Stand at attention and take your hat off,' replied the colonel. And you bet the surgeon didn't lose any time getting his heels together and his hand to his hat brim. After Roosevelt's visit there were no more complaints of the care that our fellows got in that hospital."-New York Sun.

An Arkansas Captain's Orders

A Kansas correspondent at Chickamauga says the Arkansas regiment camped near the Kansas troops furnishes lots of fun for all observers. He recites the case of one of its captains who, instead of giving the order "In two ranks form company!" shouted, "In two rows like corn!" and then in place of the order "Fours right!" commanded, "Now swing like a gate!"-New York World.
